Farmledge

In the early 1800s farmers would remove rocks from their land in preparation for crops and livestock, often stacking the stones into long walls to help divide properties. It was estimated around 1871 that over 250,000 miles of stone walls existed across New England and New York.

The irregular stone shapes, sizes and textures of Farmledge have been molded into stone panels to re-create the time honored look of stacked stone with the benefit of a simplified installation. Farmledge stone panels are approximately 4⅞” high with varying lengths ranging from 7¾” –19¾”.

Laurel Cavern Ledge

Laurel Cavern Ledge was meticulously crafted to create a timeless appearance. Handpicked from the rocky ravines and cliffs of North Carolina, this unique profile has rugged yet well defined features. Stones range from 1”–3½” in height and 5”–17” in length.
Heritage

The warm and traditional appearance of Heritage lends itself to a wide variety of architectural styles adding elegance to any residential or commercial application. Each stone was originally hand-chiseled by masons to create rugged rectangular ashlar shapes. The profile installs into randomly coursed patterns making an impressive visual statement. Heritage stones range from 2¾” – 8” in height and 3½” – 17” in length.
Fieldstone

With a wide range of bold angular shapes and rugged surface texture, Fieldstone creates a unique visual dialog. Inspired by rustic European building techniques, Fieldstone consists of intentionally irregular shapes and sizes. The profile ranges from 2”–18” in height and 4”–18” in length, with an average of 7”×9”.

The rubble shaped stone indigenous to Pennsylvania features subtle contours and smoother rounded edges. The sandstone appearance with its low profile face allows light to emphasize the colors inherent within each stone. Top Rock ranges from 2”–20” in height and 5”–25” in length.
Cobble

The sandstone textured profile Cobble is roughly chisel-cut into rectangular ashlar shapes. To soften the rugged appearance, the edges are slightly weather worn. Subtle face texture and unique beveling encourage the individuality of each stone. Cobble ranges in size from 2½”–12” in height and 4”–21” in length.
River Rock
The distinctive and time honored shape of River Rock is easily recognizable. Soft rounded contours are slowly revealed from the gradual effects of rushing water. River Rock ranges in size from approximately 1½” – 15” in height and 3” – 18” in length.
